

Trained Service Animal Request

When flying on Delta, we welcome travelers with service or emotional support animals in the aircraft cabin.

We encourage you to submit at least 48 hours before your flight, meeting the following guidelines:

- This form is valid for one year from the date the licensed veterinary professional has signed this form
- Other documentation may be required for travel entering or exiting certain domestic or international locations
- Service animals must be leashed or otherwise restrained by carrier or tether and remain under the control of their owner for the duration of the flight
- Animals must not obstruct an aisle or other area that must remain unobstructed to facilitate an emergency evacuation
- Animals must remain in the customer's personal seat/foot space at all times during flight
- If an animal carrier will be used, it must meet the approved guidelines and fit under the aircraft seat

Instructions

1. Complete and sign the following PDF form
2. Go to delta.com/mytrips to complete the service request form
3. Attach the completed form

Requested Documents

Form 1 of 1: Veterinary Health Form

Complete and submit the following form or provide official vaccination record

Trained Service Animal RequestVeterinary Health Form

Please fill out and return the following through a service request at delta.com/mytrips. This form must be completed by a veterinary professional. You may submit a copy of vaccination records in lieu of this form as long as all of the below information is included: vaccination dates and veterinary office information.

Customer Full Name or SkyMiles number:
Rabies Vaccine Given (Date):
Veterinary Professional's License Information
License Number:	Date License Issued:	State Where License Issued:
Name of Practice	Phone:
Name (printed):
Signature:	Date:

- All completed and signed PDF documents should be uploaded as part of the service request on <https://www.delta.com/mytrips/>
- By submitting this form, the passenger and veterinarian consent to Delta's Privacy Policy.
- Documents are requested to be provided at least 48 hours or more prior to travel. Please retain the original forms in your possession while traveling.